

Gift Assessment

The Primary gifts Inventory: is a effective assessment tool designed to help you identify the key skills that come naturally to you in a work environment. By rating various tasks, you will discover the strengths you consistently excel at, allowing you to make informed career decisions and align your gift with your core abilities. This inventory provides valuable insights into how you can best contribute to a team or organization, optimizing your effectiveness in both current and future positions. Paired with a Values Sorter exercise, you can also uncover the values that drive your decisions, ensuring that your career path and daily actions align with what truly matters to you.
